Book Description: In his long journalistic experience as the senior European correspondent for CBS News, Tom Fenton has reported on everything from the fall of the Shah of Iran to the movements of al Qaeda throughout Europe--a story he was tracking before 9/11. And in the three years since that fateful day, he has come to a sobering realization: Our once-noble news media--and network TV news in particular--have abdicated their responsibility to the American people, and endangered us in the process. As Fenton points out, much of the United States still depends on the networks for most of its information about the world. But after the fall of the Soviet Union, the networks gutted their news-gathering operations--just as the old Cold War status quo was shattering--leaving behind an unstable and violent new world order. Once a public service, the network news was commandeered by its corporate parents a.
