Oh, don t stop for that! said the woman, smiling with an awkward diffidence. Come! They had been riding briskly along a mere cattle-path in the woods for half an hour, and had just struck into an old, unused road that promised to lead them presently into and through some fields of cotton. Alice, slumbering heavily, had been, little by little, dressed, and was now in the man s arms. As Mary spoke they slackened pace to a quiet trot, and crossed a broad highway nearly at right angles. What is the day of the month? asked Mary of the spy. That would a been our road with the buggy, said the man, if we could of took things easy. They were riding almost straight away from the sun. His dress had been changed again, and in a suit of new, dark brown homespun wool, over a pink calico shirt and white cuffs and collar, he presented the best possible picture of spruce gentility that the times would justify. What day of the month, did you ask? I ll never tell you, but I know it s Friday. Then it s the eighteenth, said Mary. They met an old negro driving three yoke of oxen attached to a single empty cart. Uncle, said the spy, I don t reckon the boss will mind our sort o ridin straight thoo his grove, will he? Not t all, boss; on y...
